

LIQUOR DEALERS' ASSOCIATION ENDORSES STAND OF LABOR HERE

Adopts Resolutions of Approval For Campaign of Unions to Get Better Working Conditions—Deprecates Attacks on Business In Other Statements.

At the meeting of the Connecticut Wine, Liquor and Beer Dealers' association, begun today in the Stratfield hotel, the movement of union labor in this city received an endorsement.

Approval of the campaign for better working conditions and the forming of organizations for the protection of labor, was summed up in the following resolution, which was adopted: "Resolved, That we approve of all Labor Union organizations and recommend to this association the use of union goods as far as practicable, and endorse the label of all properly organized labor unions."

The resolutions committee, composed of Jacob Christman, chairman, New Haven; E. J. Eichenfeld, New London; Thomas F. Flynn, Bridgeport; Daniel J. McCormick, Norwich; James J. Fitzpatrick, Meriden; M. J. Moriarty, South Manchester, and James McVey, Ansonia, formed up the resolutions, which were adopted. The resolutions follow:

Resolution No. 1.
Whereas we, The Retail Wine, Liquor and Beer Dealers' Association of Connecticut, in our 22nd annual convention, assembled at the Stratfield hotel, Bridgeport, realizing that a persistent attempt is being made to cultivate public sentiment against the business in which we are engaged, and that many claims are being made against our "business" by those opposed to it; and
Whereas it has always been the object and purpose of this organization to see to it that a full and complete respect and observance of the law shall be our guide, and that we deprecate all violations of law and order;

"Therefore be it resolved that we pledge our aid and support to the civic authorities of our state to aid and assist them in all acts of theirs which have for their aim the observance of the laws of our state and the uplifting of mankind and the betterment of social conditions.

Resolution No. 2.
Whereas, Feeling that it is unjust for a Connecticut legislature to enact into laws measures that at times become real hardships to a particular line of business; and

Whereas, That particular line of business is so closely connected with many of the business, commercial and agricultural interests of the state and at the same time so wrongfully discriminated against to the extent that at times the voting of "No License" in a city or town means the confiscating of property rights; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this convention by vote instruct its legislative committee to have drafted a bill empowering the state to compensate those whose property rights are thus confiscated; and
Be it further resolved, That this convention instruct its legislative committee to work to have such a bill become a law of our state and that the delegates assembled here promise the committee their loyal support.

WARRENITE MAY BE "SHOWN UP" ON LOCAL JOBS

There is not the best of good feeling between the city authorities and the Connecticut company, over the pavement the company is laying between its tracks on Noble avenue, and other streets, where the city is putting Warrenite.

The company is putting down a concrete pavement, which carries eleven inches of crushed stone between the tracks and six inches on top. This pavement is permanent, can be surfaced at any time at small cost, will last long after the Warrenite is worn out, and costs very little more, about $1.50 a yard.

The authorities are helpless to object, because the city engineer has declared and the Warrenite monopoly has admitted that their pavement is not durable enough to be laid between tracks and stand up.

This means that in the not distant future there will be a show down on streets where the Connecticut company has laid concrete between tracks and Warrenite.

The company is welding the joints between its rails, as it lays the pavement with the purpose of making the road bed better and lessening the noise caused by passing cars.

Pupils of Bryant School Can't Sit

Many pupils are being held out of the Bryant and Read schools owing to delay in getting seats into the rooms. It is estimated that between 60 and 70 pupils of the Bryant school can get no instruction at the Bryant school, while a still larger number that should be attending the Read school are on half time at the Island Brook and Shelton schools.

The Bryant school has a new addition containing four rooms. They were completed by the contractors before the opening of school, but lack the necessary furniture.

Field Marshal French Surprises Men in the Field

SIR JOHN FRENCH

The only man of the hundreds of thousands at the British front who wears the crossed batons of a field marshal on his shoulders appeared in an address in the shrubbery which bordered the field where a machine gun battery of the new army was waiting for orders to move, says a correspondent at the front in France. None of the men in the battery had any idea that he was coming. They were lounging and chatting as they waited. In a glance every one identified the figure with its square chin and the white drooping mustache with the pictures they had seen in the papers. There was no need for a call to attention. The effect was like an electric shock which sent every man to his place and made his backbone a steel rod. "Does Sir John French escape one of the battery lieutenants, who was all of nineteen years old. The battery had just come out from England. It took the commander in chief about five minutes to form his judgment of the results of their nine months' preparatory drill. He asked a few questions as he looked over each gun and its crew. "Very good!" he said, and returned to his car, which was to take him on to inspect some other formation. "Any idea that the commander in chief spends all his time over a map with a telephone at his elbow," as the staff officer explained, "is quite erroneous. He is always on the go."

Greater Surveillance On Mexican Border Is Indicated By Orders

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 14.—News of the dispatch of two troops of cavalry to Fort McIntosh, near Laredo, was received here today and gave rise to further belief that American armies will soon find it necessary to establish more strict regulations governing passage between Mexico and this country along the lower part of the Rio Grande and children are allowed, in most cases, unquestioned freedom in crossing the river, but males old enough to bear arms are allowed to pass only rigid examination.

NORWALK MAYORALTY CANDIDATES NAMED

Norwalk, Sept. 14.—The republicans and democrats began their first skirmish in the city elections last night when the former nominated Dr. Carl A. Harstrom, a newcomer in the field of politics here, to run for mayor on the G. O. P. ticket. He defeated H. S. Rockwood, an old timer, in the caucus, 15 to 9. The democrats also held a caucus and nominated T. F. Clune, a dentist. Dr. Harstrom is at the head of the Harstrom School in this city.

The estate of "Big Tim" Sullivan is valued at $1,001,277.

HOWLAND'S

Entrances in Main Street, Fairfield Avenue, and Cannon Street.

Bridgeport, Conn.
Tuesday, Sept. 14, 1915.

The Weather:—Probably fair to night and Wednesday.

The store is open daily from 8:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., except Saturdays when it is open till 9 p. m.

Full service to over 5,000 people.

Saturday last, between 6 and 9 o'clock in the evening, this store service was made use of by over 5,000 people.

A careful count kept at each entrance showed a total of 5,544 persons entering the store. This did not include members of the store staff who came in after spending their supper-time outside.

We believed that Saturday evening was the most convenient time for many men and women to do their shopping. Evidently it was.

In giving full service to all these folks, the store does not lose sight of its duty to its own force. Every member of the staff whose service is required Saturday evening, receives an extra half day's pay. This extra sum will be paid each week during the time the store is open daily till 6 and Saturdays till 9 P. M.

These are glowing days all through the store.

There is the glow of Autumn colors, of new beautiful Autumn fabrics, of rich Autumn hats and suits and wraps.

There is the luster of the beautiful new soft-toned silks, the charm of the new shoes, the chic beauty of the new silken stockings.

There is the glow of new home furnishings—rich rugs and draperies, luminous lights, sparkling glass and silver.

Everything is in readiness for Autumn; for the making ready of the home; for assuring comfort and delight through the many indoor days and indoor evenings so fast approaching.

There is deep satisfaction in choosing things now. One chooses from complete gathering and has full share of enjoyment-time ahead.

Even fine silks are made rain-shedding by

"Cravenette"

There is a piece of fine silk crepe of a light tan hue in the Cravenette exhibit. It's the very sort of thing you would expect to be ruined by a drop of water. But you can put it right into a bowl of water, shake it out, and it is just as soft and fine and beautiful as it was before. Injured? Not a whit.

That is what the Cravenette proofing process does.

It makes silks and woolsens and cottons immune from damage by water. It fixes those fabrics so that wearers will keep dry in ordinary showers. And it doesn't alter the appearance of the fabric an iota!

You can tell a Cravenette woolen from an ordinary one only by the Cravenette stamp and by the way it sheds water. In every other way it looks just like an ordinary woolen.

Cravenetting does not make woolsens hot and heavy either. They retain their regular weave. You can blow smoke right through a piece of Cravenette woolen—but you can't blow water through it!

It is worth any man's or woman's while to come and see this exhibit. 'Tis here for only a limited time.

Main Street, near.

local matters, but conditions all over the country will be discussed at the meeting.

Some of the Star Shirt Co. employees who have deserted the ranks visited the other employees yesterday and told them an offer had been made of the choice between the eight hour day or 55 hour week, with no increase in pay, and a concession of five cents reduction on the cost of thread. This was scoffed at by the strikers.

It was reported this morning that 30 employees of the Star Shirt Co. had obtained work in the La Resista Corset Co.

TORRINGTON STRIKERS REJECT COMPROMISE

Torrington, Sept. 14.—The proposition of the Torrington company to give to the employees of the Excelsior Needle company, the Standard company and the Progressive Manufacturing company a ten per cent. increase in wages and a 55 hour week was decisively turned down last night. The total vote was 222 in favor of the offer and 987 against it. The ballots were cast at the factory. All employees except the members of the committee appointed at a meeting last week to present a petition for a 20 per cent. increase in wages and a 60 hour week will meet tonight to decide upon a plan of action.

There is no change in the strike situation at the factory of the Hendey Machine company. The strikers are to hold a benefit dance Thursday night and are talking of a tag day as a means of raising funds.

The clerks in the dry goods stores have been granted a weekly schedule of 50 instead of 54 hours. No wage increase was asked. It is expected that the new time schedule will be adopted also by the millinery and five and ten cent stores.

DANIELS SEEKING HELP FROM ALL ON ADVISORY BOARD

Washington, Sept. 14.—Secretary Daniels announced today that there was no purpose of adding to the membership of the new naval advisory board but that officials and members of the board expected to call upon anybody who might be of help in developing the navy through invention and science.

"I hope that we will get the cooperation of every eminent engineer in America," Mr. Daniels said. He added that several scientists had not been included in the board's personnel because the appointments had rested with the 11 engineering and scientific societies upon which he had called for nomination. Mr. Daniels outlined some of the first questions to come before the board, pointing out that the main trouble encountered in operation of air craft and submarines, was in their motors. The Germans, he said, had evolved a new method of preventing corrosion of guns, which, if worked out in the United States, might be worth millions of dollars.

"These questions and hosts of others like them," the secretary added, "will be brought before the board and first considered by committees of those whose genius bears particularly upon them."

Eight hundred thousand children returned to school in New York city.
